Idea, design, collection

Every year, we put a lot of effort in creating a collection of stylish Looxz orthopedic shoes which meet modern-day fashion. From the moment of committing our ideas to paper to completing a full collection, we follow a strict design process.

This creative process draws together a number of different aspects: our team follows the trends of the day, analyses the market and keeps a close track of developments in orthopedics. Our findings are then brought together and - with the valued input of orthopedic experts - combined to design a great new Looxz collection with shoes of outstanding quality.

We do this each and every year. Inspired by the market, we transform our ideas from rough sketches to definitive designs. By experimenting with color, materials and details, we create designs which have something for everyone. This enables us to keep coming back every year with a collection of good-looking, fashionable shoes which give wearers a spring in their step. That is what drives us.

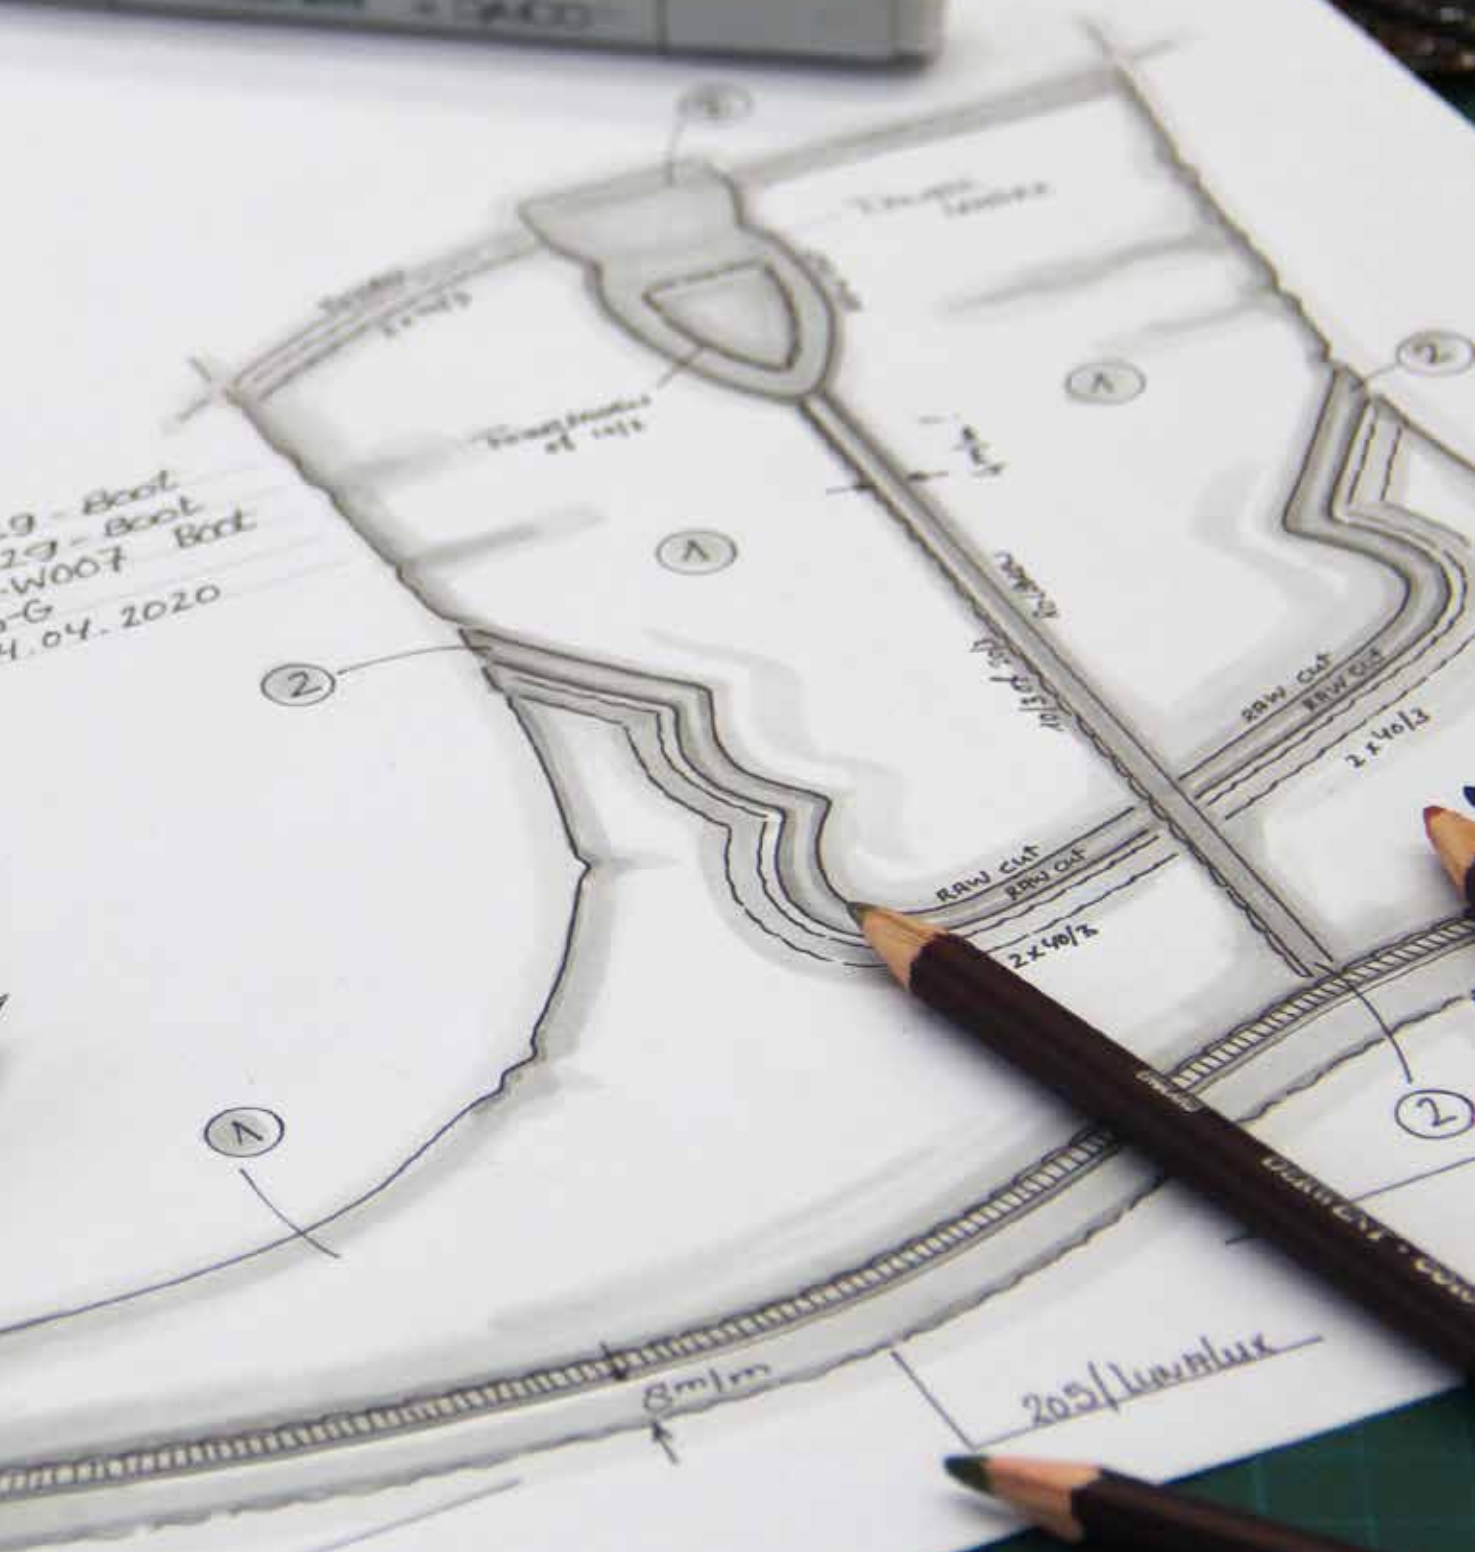

We believe everyone deserves comfortable and good-looking shoes.

"Finally, functional orthopedic shoes with a wow factor."

High boots look fantastic with a maxi-length dress, as can be seen here.

But a mid-length skirt or dress (knee-length or slightly longer) also provides a nice silhouette.

For a bit more wow effect, choose a high-split dress to show off your boots.

Of course you want your children to look stylish and they do too! Especially if they follow all the latest fashion trends: usually from the age of 7 and upwards. We are also seeing a lot of similarities with shoe fashion for adults. Parents and children can be pretty much dressed in the same style.

TIP

Lace-up shoes are all the fashion with boys. Booties are tough-looking shoes, just perfect as boys shoes and easy to combine with clothing in any style. For example, with a pair of jeans with a shirt or a pair of chinos with a jumper. There are boys' booties with laces but also with a zipper. Super easy to put on and take off!
